Scope of the Team
The scope of the URATT’s work will be to:

- Serve as a forum for communication and information exchange over a broad range of research administration activities related to formal and informal professional education, including its identification of needs, development of courses (online, blended, and instructor-led), initiation and coordination of mentoring activities and professional organization learning opportunities.

- Identify issues, opportunities and projects where the URATT can work together to satisfy respective training needs and further interests.

- Jointly develop, implement, sustain, evaluate, and improve university-wide training offerings. Specific examples include:
  - Development, Delivery and Oversight of Sponsored Programs Overview
  - Development of online training
Organization and Management
Reporting to the Sponsored Administrative Leadership Committee (SALC), the URATT is comprised of a core group of research administration and education specialists to coordinate the training efforts of the research administration community at Harvard. The Team is co-chaired by a one school representative and one central administration URATT member.

Structure of the Team
See organization chart.

Membership Guidelines
- Meetings will generally be held the first Thursday of every month and will be 1.5 hours in length.
- Every effort will be made to staff the committee with representatives from the major research schools and central research administration.
