Fixed Price Residual Balances Guidance

Originally Issued: June 8, 2016
Last Revised: July 1, 2021
Responsible Office: Office for Sponsored Programs

Reason for Guidance

Fixed price sponsored awards are awards in which an agreed upon, set price is determined for the project to be accomplished. If the cost of the project exceeds the awarded amount, the University absorbs the additional costs required to perform the work. Many of the fixed price sponsored awards accepted by Harvard are with industry partners; however, federal and non-federal sponsors, including foundations, can issue a fixed price award. With respect to industry-sponsored awards, the University, through its Office of Technology Development (OTD), endeavors to negotiate fixed price terms in all awards; however, not all industry-sponsored research results in a fixed price award.

Principal Investigators (PIs) and administrators must prepare accurate, detailed proposal budgets, and include costs associated with the fixed price sponsored award to fully capture all resources necessary for the work performed on the project. If the project is performed at a cost below the awarded amount, the residual balance must be treated in accordance with the terms and conditions of the award and/or the sponsor's written policies relating to disposition of residual balances. If the award and sponsor are either silent on this issue and/or allow for residual balances to be retained by the University, then the funds can be transferred to a University account. As a non-profit institution, the University's mission is not to seek profit from its research activities; therefore, significant residual balances on fixed price sponsored awards may call into question the validity of the proposed budget and potentially affect the University's tax-exempt status.

A Fixed Price Residual Balance Form is required for any sponsored awards with a remaining balance of $250 or more at award end, when the sponsor allows the balance to be retained. Balances $10,000 or more require a Balance Justification, PI signature, and OSP signature. Please refer to your school's local procedure, included in resources section for additional requirements below this threshold. Balances below $250 or interest-only transfers do not require a form.

Applicability

This guidance is applicable to all Principal Investigators (PIs) and administrators at Harvard University within all Schools, units, divisions, University-wide initiatives, labs, and centers who are involved with the administration and conduct of sponsored awards.
